HANS WALZ AWARD CEREMONY FOR RESEARCH ON THE HISTORY OF HOMEOPATHY (WEB SITE LINK)

Stuttgart, 04 December 2017 – The 2017 Hans Walz Award for research on the history of homeopathy went to Alice Kuzniar. Since 2003 the Institute for the History of Medicine of the Robert Bosch Foundation has awarded the international prize worth 1,500 Euros in order to promote research on the history of homeopathy outside the Institute and honor outstanding work in this field. On 01 December 2017 the Award was handed over in a special ceremony.

Alice Kuzniar has been teaching German and English language and culture at the University of Waterloo in Canada since 2008. From 1983 to 2008 she was professor of German and Comparative Literature at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. She gained her doctorate at Princeton University.

Her award-winning monograph The Birth of Homeopathy out of the Spirit of Romanticism was published in 2017 by Toronto University Press. With her in-depth knowledge of Romanticism Kuzniar explores central homeopathic concepts against the intellectual background of that period, casting a new light on the work of Samuel Hahnemann.
